DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because it does not correspond to the invention as is now claimed. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the housing, the gradient inductor and the static inductor must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-33 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Bridges P.N. 4,751,464.

Bridges discloses a transmit/receive inductor system for NMR imaging as shown in Fig.

1. For operation in a NMR imaging apparatus, the inductor system would be used in conjunction and in concert with the required gradient and static magnetic field inductor systems that are conventional for imaging.

The transmit/receive inductor system disclosed by Bridges features an outer surface 12 that serves both as a RF shield and the outer conductor for paraxially distributed transmission lines 18, 19, 20 etc. See lines 50-66 of col. 4. Note that each of the transmission lines includes an inner conductor e.g. 18, an outer conductor 12 and that the conductors are spaced in a direction perpendicular to surface 12. For further details on the operation of the transmit/receive inductor system applicant's attention is directed to the "Detailed Description of the Preferred Embodiment".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 34-74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bridges as applied to claim 1-33 above, and further in view of Arakawa et al. P.N. 4,763,076 (Arakawa).

The difference between the prior art as represented by Bridges and the claims at issue, is that it is silent about the use of detuning if separate transmission and reception coils are contemplated. This difference however, would have been obvious to the artisan of ordinary skill in the art in view of the teachings of Arakawa. For certain NMR imaging procedures as explained by Arakawa (see col. 1) it is desirable to use separate T/R coils. To use the coil of Bridges in this desirable manner, it would be necessary to provide a detuning/ decoupling circuit as disclosed by Arakawa. See for example Fig. 2 and 3 and corresponding description. The use of a detuning/ decoupling circuit such as Arakawa's, with the coil of Bridges only for reception, would result in the invention as claimed.

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Tropp, Prevot and Hinshaw et al. all disclose T/R inductor systems for MRI. Note the abstract of each disclosure.
